

migration is beautiful

Migration is Beautiful | Film Screening and Art-Making

Monday, April 1st | 6:30-8:30 pm

Channing Murray Foundation, 1209 W. Oregon, U

Free and open to the public – light refreshments will be served

Meet powerhouse artist/activist Favianna Rodriguez -- a leading voice in the movement of artists raising awareness about U.S. immigration issues. Favianna is a co-founder of both Presente.org and Culture Strike, two groups pushing back against the wave of anti-immigrant rhetoric and legislation that has recently swept the nation. Pulitzer Prize winning author Jose Antonio Vargas explains the ironies of anti-immigration hysteria in a country founded by immigrants. Favianna participates in a visual campaign using the Monarch Butterfly as a symbol of the beauty and dignity of migrants.

Cosponsored by the Social Action Committee of the UUCUC, the University YMCA, and the Peace and Service