

This event forms part of the effort to stimulate public discussion around House Bill 3668, which would enable men and women who are 50 years of age or older and who have served at least 25 consecutive years to apply for sentence modifications. The bill has passed out of the restorative justice committee in the House, and will be considered soon in the House.

Friday May 9
6:30pm
Unitarian Universalist Church

FREE ADMISSION

Please educate yourself about this important issue and attend the May 9 event at the Unitarian Universalist Church! This is a great opportunity to learn firsthand from men who know prison conditions and prison issues.

CO-SPONSORS

Unitarian Universalist Church, U-C Friends Meeting, C-U Citizens for Peace and Justice, Channing Murray Foundation, First Mennonite Church, Central Illinois Jobs With Justice, and Education Justice Project

EDUCATION JUSTICE PROJECT AT ILLINOIS

WITH THE UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, U-C FRIENDS MEETING, C-U CITIZENS FOR PEACE AND JUSTICE, CHANNING MURRAY FOUNDATION, FIRST MENNONITE CHURCH, AND CENTRAL ILLINOIS JOBS WITH JUSTICE

PRESENTS

"A DAY AT STATEVILLE"

"A Day in Stateville" is a short play that chronicles a newcomer's first day at Stateville Prison in Joliet, Illinois. It is performed, in person, by men formerly incarcerated at Stateville. Learn about conditions in Illinois' prison system and how they can be fixed. Talk with the men who have been there.

FRIDAY MAY 9

6:30PM

Unitarian Universalist Church

309 W. Green Street

Urbana, IL 61801

Admission is Free! Refreshments served.