

Get the Inside Scoop with History and Judaic Studies professor

Maud Mandel

Maud S. Mandel, a professor of history and Judaic studies, currently serves as Brown's Dean of the College. Author of In the Aftermath of Genocide: Armenians and Jews in Twentieth Century France (Duke University Press, 2003) and Muslims and Jews in France: History of a Conflict (Princeton University Press, 2014), Professor Mandel's research focuses primarily on the impact of policies and practices of inclusion and exclusion on ethnic and religious minorities in 20-century France, most notably Jews, Armenians, and Muslim North Africans. This interest in diversity and difference has informed Professor Mandel's course offerings at Brown as well as her administrative activities.

Mar 28, 12:00pm

English Building, Room 109 (608 South Wright Street, Urbana)

This event is free and open to all U of I undergrads, but space is limited and registration is required. Please email srwilkin@illinois.edu by Friday, March 17 to RSVP.

IPRH Inside Scoop sessions offer an opportunity for all interested undergrads, no matter their majors, to engage with creative minds in the humanities. Lunch will be served.
